GLADIOLUS

OUTSTANDING VARIETIES

- ABU HASSAN. Handsome, deep violet blue. Buds almost black.
- BLACK OPAL. A lustrous dark red.
- ELIZABETH THE QUEEN. Gorgeously ruffled, lavender-mauve.
- ETHEL CAVE COLE. A clear light pink, shading to cream in the throat. Proof of its charm is the fact that it is entering the thirteenth year as a favorite.
- FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE. Tops in whites. This crisp gladiolus has glistening snow white florets, and perfect form.
- GREEN LIGHT. Chartreuse (greenish yellow). Especially popular for flower arrangements.
- LEADING LADY. A sensational, soft creamy white with waxy finish. Leading Lady has a famous parent, Picardy, and upholds the family reputation as a winner on the show table.
- LIPSTICK. Lovely shell pink with rose red accent in throat. Nicely ruffled.
- OKLAHOMA. A favorite smoky. The unusual coloring is a delightful blend of lavender and grey, shading to a cream throat.
- ORANGE GOLD. This rare color in glads is truly a deep golden orange. Vigorous.
- PICARDY. Most widely known of all gladiolus. A wonderful, large salmon pink.
- PURPLE SUPREME. Rich deep purple with silken sheen. Popular.
- RAVEL. The best blue glad,—largest, most vigorous, and most popular. A blue-violet with artistic reddish throat markings.
- RED CHARM. Classic crimson red. Long flower head, with many open blooms.
- SALMAN'S GLORY. Giant cream, with striking scarlet blotch. A showy glad, and a magnificent bloomer.
- SPIC AND SPAN. Gracefully ruffled, glowing deep pink. So popular, it is replacing its parent, Picardy, as the leading commercial cut flower.
- SPOTLIGHT. Fine, deep yellow with a dash of bright red in the throat. Very formal spikes, with large florets, lightly waved.
- VALERIA. Unusual shade of light scarlet-red. Valuable cut flower.

Any of the above: 3 of one kind—40c;
12 of one kind—$1.35; 50 of one kind—$5.00

DAHLIAS

LARGE FLOWERING DAHLIAS

ANNA BENEDICT (Decorative). Glowing, deep maroon.

BALLEGO'S GLORY (Decorative). Rich mahogany red, petals gold tipped.

BERGER'S MASTERPIECE (Incurved cactus). Lovely smoky pink, enhanced by a suggestion of chestnut in the center.

CLARA CARDER (Decorative). Definitely a "must" for a dahlia garden! Blooms are a delightful shade of pink, and measure 12 inches. Profuse producer of blossoms and tubers.

CLARA CLEMMENS (Ball). Dark red petals, smartly tipped pure white.

D'ARCY SAINSBURY (Decorative). A frosty white of majestic form. Strong stems support 10 inch flowers.

JANE COWL (Decorative). Superb orange-gold, blending to a pure apricot at the center. A warm toned dahlia that you will treasure.

MARGRACE (Decorative). Attracts immediate attention in the garden. Petals bright orange-red, slightly tipped gold. There is also a gold suffusion throughout the flower.

MAYOR OTIS (Informal decorative). Gigantic blooms of copper-bronze. One of the largest dahlias ever grown.

PASADENA (Decorative). A soft pastel pink. Truly lovely.

SATAN (Semi-cactus). This stunning dahlia is an unusual shade of flame-red. Petals spiral gracefully. Float two in a wide, shallow bowl, with a touch of green foliage, for a simple, but striking flower arrangement.

WILLIAM ROPKE (Semi-cactus.) Sparkling orange, which shades to yellow at the ends of the petals. Very striking in the garden. Medium sized flowers on compact plant. Blooms freely.

YELLOW SPIRAL (Semi-cactus). A fascinating lemon yellow of large size. The petals are artistic in form and arrangement. Dramatic on the bush. A fine cut flower. A Salbach introduction.

Any of the above: $1.25 each.
